DEDICATION

DAVE DONAHUE

DMD

He's hip. As quick with the camera as with personifying a multitude of historical characters. Pervy jokes, "Whoops, close the door!" Three years, a quick flash, but a brilliant one, nonetheless. Attuned to promising youth as advisor to yearbook and the Peace and Social Justice Club. Thank - you for being here Dave, but not adhering.

JOHN RIVERS

A saint. The man who has kept the beat batik fabric of ALG from unraveling. Twelve years of devotion on the brink. Thank - you, John, for fusing to your principles and ideals: allowing the alternative and experimental to be an option.

IN MEMORY OF CYNDIE RYAN

GIFTS

There are moments when you realize
That she has come and gone,
You find yourself still singing
Her sweet unfinished song.
But images come back to you
When you have thought awhile
Remembered special things of hers
Her laughter and her smile
And suddenly, sometime you know
She's with you day to day
She hears the thoughts you hold inside
And helps you on your way.
It's times like these, you start to see,
The one you love still lives
Inside of you she grows and sends
The strength she still can give.

Foreign Exchange Students

Students from France, Denmark and Norway came to Nauset this year, each staying with families in Brewster. The students from Denmark and Norway have five years of high school, while the student from France is already out of school. Here's a bit of who they are, and what they like.

MISTER DONUT

Don-Paul Quilichini, 19
Lyon, France

Hi, everybody! I'm Don-Paul Quilichini. My funny name comes from Corsico but I live in Lyon, France. I live with Marc and Suzie Roncourt's family in Brewster. That's really great. But what do I do here? My best friend and I decided to go to the USA in two hours and it was like a big joke, an impossible dream. But this time, the dream came true, and in August I was at Nauset. I had already graduated, therefore I could choose the subjects I wanted to perfect. My knowledge of the English language and US society were my principal goals. My experience has been terribly hard and difficult, but exciting. It revealed what I am, what I feel and what I expect. I opened my eyes, I opened my mind, sometimes I clenched my fists. But at last, I keep only good memories. I have so much to teach now! This year on Cape Cod opened new ways to do what I like — Studying political sciences and international relations. Thanks to everyone and I encourage everybody to attempt the same adventure. But don't worry — or be prepared — I'll be back!! (Especially if you welcome me with several donuts!)

Favorite American Food: Donuts
Out of School.

Soren Adolph, 17
Odense, Denmark

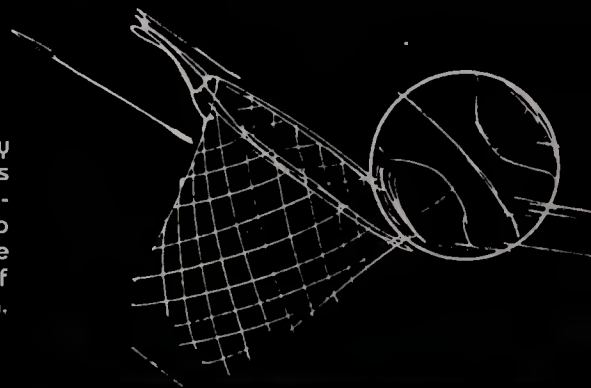

Hi, I'm Søren Adolph from the little weak country on top of Germany called Denmark. I will just say that this year has — thanks to good friends and host families — been absolutely great. I have always wanted to see more of the world, because I think it is important to see and learn about other countries and cultures before blessing or criticizing them. I think that everybody that gets the chance to become an exchange student should go for it. If you just have a little responsibility and a positive outlook on life you have a good chance of a successful stay. I have really learned to take care of myself and I have learned a good deal about the American way of life. Hope to see you all again.

Favorite American Food: American Tacos.
2 years left in High School.

Bethina and Monica
Beilegaard, 18
Oslo, Norway

We stay with Mr. & Mrs. Botes, and are seniors at school in Norway.
Favorite American Foods: Pizze and Chocolate icecream.
Will attend Hairstyling School, and college in Norway.

YEARBOOK EDITOR

So we have come to the end of yet another harsh and grueling year. Under superb leadership we the yearbook editors have completed the most exciting, stupendous, mind-boggling, outstanding, history making, concept shattering, totally rad yearbook. In the last few seconds in the yearbook office we have compiled this informal message from some of the most bizarre statements made by you and us.

Yearbook - "a staff of hundreds" (well at least in the picture), DAVE?!, When's the deadline?, "Look at this!!", What exactly are they doing in this picture?!, Hmmm . . . is this legal?, Karen, No, we are not using the word thespians!, No Problem!, Can I have the liquid paper?!, Does this kid exist?, I said Coca Cola not Diet Pepsi!!!!, We're getting a little hostile., Who's got the popcorn and the candy bars?, Where did all those other editors go?, So who's most likely to press the button?, Proofreading!!!, Who the h_____ are the Nauseaters?, Kisss mee, cool beans, Squeak!, I'm outta here!, pink stuff?, Baker units?!?, Jags, keg parties, shotgun, Dudes!, You're Whipped!!, minor, Good Luck - It's like we know everything now!! (They'll find out!) Thanks to everyone who helped.
